Upcoming Events and Deadlines

International Student Orientation welcomes incoming students

The two-day international student orientation will be held Thursday and Friday, August 15-16 in Williams Science Hall. Incoming international students should plan to arrive prior to this orientation. College administrators should remind incoming international students that they need to arrive on campus prior to those dates.

Call for Abstracts

The ACCESS 10th Arab Health Summit: Advancing Health Amidst Conflict and Crisis has issued a call for abstracts. The Summit will be held at the Henry Hotel in Dearborn, MI on Oct. 21– 23, 2024.

The summit serves as a platform for researchers in the United States to connect with their counterparts in the MENA (Middle Eastern North African) region, aiming to exchange best practices and forge sustainable public health partnerships globally.

This year's theme spotlights the pivotal role of health rights, public health research, and community engagement amidst global turmoil caused by wars and natural disasters.

The abstract submission window remains open until May 10, 2024.

For more information and to submit an abstract, visit here.

For inquiries regarding abstract submissions, please contact ACCESS at research@accesscommunity.org.
