MAHA Program

The Multiple Sclerosis at Home Access (MAHA) program, is a comprehensive, patient-centered service for individuals with MS and other demyelinating diseases (MOGAD, NMOSD) with disability in our community.

Despite patients' disability, exercise, socialization and advocacy are a pivotal component to wellness and quality of life. Our main priority with funds from the MS Strong race event will go toward funding exercise scholarships for those enrolled in the MAHA program to MS community partners with expertise working with this population. Excess funds will be designated for the MAHA program. The team's long-term vision is to start a MS community, day achievement program.
