Strategies for Designing a Successful Research Program

Kenneth W. Bayles, PhD

Associate Vice Chancellor for Basic Science Research
Director of the Center for Staphylococcal Research
Professor of Pathology and Microbiology

WHEN & WHERE

Friday, January 14, 2022

11:00 AM to 12:00 noon

All College presentation

During his presentation, Dr. Ken Bayles will share his experiences as a researcher and senior research administrator at both UNMC and UNO. He will share insights on building a great team, taking a strategic approach to growth, and leading one's field to help COPH investigators design their own research career paths. All are welcome to attend this virtual event.
